

ICCE2014

Conference Structure

The conference will be held in November 30 to December 4, 2014, five consecutive days where the first two days will be allocated to the pre-conference including workshops, tutorials, and DSC sessions while the remaining three days will be also allocated to the main conference including keynotes, invited talks, oral parallel sessions, and poster sessions.

Conference Fees

Information about the conference registration will be available on the conference web site later.

Noh Theatre, Nara Prefectural New Public Hall

Todaiji Cultural Center

Welcome to Nara

Nara is situated in the center of Japan, which is also the birthplace of Japanese history. It was called Yamato in ancient times and was region where the oldest Japanese literature began. In 710, the ancient capital of Yamato was moved to Nara. After that, Nara became a cultural hub of Japan as the endpoint of the Silk Road and received many things and ideas from Europe and Asia. After importing Buddhism and other cultural asserts from China and the Korean peninsula, Japan developed a unique culture. So, Nara is the starting place of Japanese cultures and spirits. There are many historical sites including UNESCO's World Heritage. It takes less than one hour from Nara to Kyoto and Osaka. It is also easy to get access even to Tokyo via Kyoto. See in more detail at: <http://narashikanko.or.jp/en/index.html>

Conference Venue

The conference will be held in Nara Prefectural New Public Hall with an impressive Noh theatre and a spacious Japanese garden. The hall is located in the center of Nara National Park, which is famous for many historical shrines and temples registered as a World Heritage site. <http://www.shinkokaido.jp/en/>

For pre-conference, Todaiji Culture Center can be utilized. The center is just 5-minute walk from the Nara Prefectural New Public Hall. <http://culturecenter.todaiji.or.jp/>

Accommodation

The main conference hotel is Hotel Nikko Nara where the conference banquet will be held. A block of rooms have been pre-booked. The area is also well supplied by local hotels within walking distance.

22nd International Conference on Computers in Education

ICCE2014

Nov. 30 – Dec. 4, 2014

Nara, Japan

Conference Theme

Constructing New Fundamentals of Computers in Education for the Future

Nara Prefectural New Public Hall

General Information

Information about ICCE2014 will be accessed at the conference web site:

<http://icce2014.jaist.ac.jp>

We look forward to welcoming you in Nara with OMOTENASHI
Japanese hospitality!!

Organized by

Asia-Pacific Society for Computers in Education (APSCE)

Hosted by

Japanese Society of Information and Systems in Education (JSiSE)
Japan Society for Educational Technology (JSET)
Japanese Association for Education of Information Studies (JAEIS)